Hike in the Prairie

Today is National Prairie Day. To celebrate, we will hike through the prairie on the south side of Litzenberg Memorial Woods, look for the many plants and animals that call the prairie home, such as big bluestem, chickweed geometer moths, and Eastern Bluebirds, and talk about the prairie habitat: what makes the prairie habitat unique, why prairies are in trouble, and how prairies are managed in the Hancock Park System. We will hike a portion of the Southland Trail (flat terrain with grass surface) for approximately 2 miles. Depending on the weather, the trail might be wet.

Spore Prints

Whether you enjoy identifying mushrooms or like to make art, join us for our spore print program. Mushrooms are amazing organisms that release spores from their gills. These spores fall off when the mushroom starts to dry or decompose. Spore prints are made by collecting these spores on a piece of paper which can create amazing designs. Identification of mushrooms can possibly be made by looking at the prints. We will be discussing how to create a spore print with mushrooms you might find at home.

22nd Annual Peter Rabbit Tea

This year's Peter Rabbit Tea will feature the story of "The Tale of Mrs. Tittlemouse." The story will be read in the gazebo by our very own Beatrix Potter followed by a tea party in the Lodge for you and your guest. Afterward, you can meet Mrs. Tittlemouse at her home – the Lakefront Activity Center – and help her with her chores. There will be a scavenger hunt on the Lodge patio and an opportunity for you and your tea companion to make and take home a mouse size broom.
